SEND Information Report 2019/20

Kinds of Special Educational Needs and Disabilities in our school

Our school currently provides additional and / or different provision for a range of needs including:

- Communication and interaction, for example, autistic spectrum condition, speech and language difficulties
- Cognition and learning, for example, dyslexia
- Social, emotional and mental health difficulties, for example, attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD)
- Sensory and/or physical needs, for example, visual impairments, hearing impairments, processing difficulties, dyspraxia, epilepsy

The SENDco, teacher and teaching assistants provide support for all pupils across the four areas of need as laid out in the SEND Code of Practice 2014

Identifying pupils with SEND and addressing their needs

We will assess each pupil's current skills and levels of attainment settings and Key Stages, where appropriate. Class teachers will make regular assessments of progress for all pupils and identify those whose progress:

- Is significantly slower than that of their peers starting from the same baseline
- Fails to match or better the child's previous rate of progress
- Fails to close the attainment gap between the child and their peers
- Widens the attainment gap

This may include progress in areas other than attainment, for example social needs.

Slow progress and low attainment will not automatically mean a pupil is recorded as having SEN.

When deciding whether special educational provision is required we will start with the desired outcomes, including the expected progress and attainment, and the views and the wishes of the pupil and their parents.

We will use this to determine the support that is needed and whether we can provide it by adapting our core offer, or whether something different or additional is needed.

Consulting and involving parents

We will have an early discussion with the pupil and their parents when identifying whether they need special educational provision. These conversations will make sure that:

- Everyone develops a good understanding of the pupil's areas of strength and difficulty
- We take into account the parents' concerns
- Everyone understands the agreed outcomes sought for the child
- Everyone is clear on what the next steps are

Notes of these early discussions will be added to the pupil's record and given to their parents. We will formally notify parents when it is decided that a pupil will receive SEN support.

Arrangements for assessing and reviewing pupils' progress throughout the year

We will follow the graduated approach and the four-part cycle of assess, plan, do, review. The class or subject teacher will work with the SENDCo to carry out a clear analysis of the pupil's needs. This will draw on:

- The teacher's assessment and experience of the pupil
- Their previous progress and attainment and behaviour
- Other teachers' assessments, where relevant
- The individual's development in comparison to their peers and national data
- The views and experience of parents
- The pupil's own views
- Advice from external support services, if relevant

The assessment will be reviewed regularly.

All teachers and support staff who work with the pupil will be made aware of their needs, the outcomes sought, the support provided, and any teaching strategies or approaches that are required. We will regularly review the effectiveness of the support and interventions and their impact on the pupil's progress.

Supporting pupils moving between phases and preparing for adulthood

We will share information with the school, college, or other setting the pupil is moving to. We will agree with parents and pupils which information will be shared as part of this

Our approach to teaching pupils with SEN

Teachers are responsible and accountable for the progress and development of all the pupils in their class.

High quality teaching is our first step in responding to pupils who have SEN. This will be differentiated for individual pupils. Provision may also include:

- In the moment intervention by teachers and LSAs
- Small group interventions
- Guided sessions within class with the teacher and teaching assistants
- Personalised provision through resources and adapted activities
- Talkboost
- Counting to Calculating
- Sensory therapy sessions in the sensory room
- Safe spaces outside the classroom
- Access to key adults in school
- Lego Therapy
- Boxhall Interventions to support SEMH
- SEMH groups
- Priority reading sessions
- Fun Fit
- High 5
- Speech / Language Link

How adaptations are made to the curriculum and environment to support SEND pupils and to provide additional support for learning

We make the following adaptations to ensure all pupils' needs are met:

- Differentiating our curriculum to ensure all pupils are able to access it, for example, by grouping, 1:1 work, teaching style, content of the lesson, etc.
- Adapting our resources and staffing
- Using recommended aids, such as laptops, coloured overlays, visual timetables, larger font, etc.
- Differentiating our teaching, for example, giving longer processing times, pre-teaching of key vocabulary, reading instructions aloud, etc.

Adaptations to the environment and curriculum:

- Children work in mixed ability groups;
- A wide range of resources are accessible to children;
- Independent learning is scaffolded / differentiated;
- Texts are chosen to ensure appropriateness for the learners;

- Teaching assistants support learners when necessary;
- Activities and resources are differentiated;
- ICT is used where there may be an additional need
- Displays may be adapted for visual impairments;
- Additional equipment is used such as sound- field systems to promote and encourage good listening skills.

Securing equipment and facilities

Should any additional equipment or facilities/services be required the Headteacher and SENDCo work together to secure this where necessary. Our school has recently created a sensory room with a variety of equipment to support pupils with SEMH and sensory needs. Outside areas are a priority to support SEMH and well-being across the school and these areas are being developed into sensory gardens, raised beds, outdoor learning environments and an eco-classroom to support outdoor learning.

Evaluating the effectiveness of SEN provision

We evaluate the effectiveness of provision for pupils with SEN by:

- Reviewing pupils' individual progress towards their goals each term
- Reviewing the impact of interventions through entry and exit assessments
- Using pupil questionnaires
- Monitoring by the SENDCo
- Using provision maps to measure progress
- Holding termly reviews for pupils with statements of SEN or EHC plans

Support that is available for improving the social, emotional and mental health of pupils with SEND

The mental health of the children in our school is of the utmost importance; it is imperative that they are happy, confident, self-aware and comfortable in their surroundings in order to learn effectively and reach their potential.

Pupils are supported by:

- Being involved in many areas of the school community, such as the School Council
- Termly questionnaires are completed with children with SEMH needs to ensure their happiness and well-being in school;
- CAMHS support for individual cases;
- Extra transition for identified pupils

Advisory services accessed by our school

Where appropriate the support of advisory services and outside agencies will be sought in order to gain a better understanding of a child's needs and how best to support these needs. An Education Health Care Plan (EHCP) may be put in place at this point or previously. This is a structured framework.

Complaints about SEN provision

Complaints about SEN provision in our school should be made to the class teacher in the first instance. They will then be referred to the school's complaints policy.

The parents of pupils with disabilities have the right to make disability discrimination claims to the first-tier SEND tribunal if they believe that our school has discriminated against their children. They can make a claim about alleged discrimination regarding:

- Exclusions
- Provision of education and associated services
